WAUREGAN LODGE, K. OFP., CELEBRATES ITS REVIVAL WITH BIG BANQUET

Park said:

The first break in the solid ranks of local Rotary has come with the passing from this life of Dr. John S. Blackmar to a life of greater fulfness. While we are saddened by the loss of John, we can also be glad that we were privileged to have had John as a friend, glad that we could be in his company for a few short hours each week and the memory of him will always be with us. If John could send a message to us today it would be to ways be with us. If John could send a message to us today it would be to Carry On, in the faith of Ged, in the faith of the ideals of the club to which John was ever loyal and true, faith in one and anther and in ourselves. John has gone but he has left us better for his having been with us, and as we think of him let us not be filled with sadness for he has left us a bleesed her-liage of carrying on the ideals that he

WOMEN AND MEDICINE
In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegarde wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conflucted the hospitals and cared for the Sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago ty a woman. Lydie E. Pinkham did then, and does now, relieve the aliments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it. WOMEN AND MEDICINE
